A WILL PROBATED.

The Late Wm. Miller Divides His Estate.

ROANOKE TIMES BUREAU, PULASKI, Nov. 2.

In the circuit court this morning the will of the late William Miller, Sr., was offered for probate. The will was made in 1871 and has a codicil made in 1888. The testator divides his property equally as to value between five heirs, namely: Mrs. H. C. Trolinger, Mrs. W. J. Glendy, James A. Miller's heirs, the heirs of the late Mrs. Margaret Darst—Mrs. W. F. Howard and Mrs. John W. Wilson, and Jno. K. Miller.

The testator leaves about 1,600 acres of mountain land; part of it in the same coal lands that are being worked at Altoona and Bell Hampton; also two tracts of valuable Back creek farming land. Of this the homestead, 294 acres, is bequeathed to Mrs. Trolinger and Mrs. Glendy at a valuation. Ninety acres, more or less, is bequeathed to John G. Miller.

The mountain land is to be divided without sale if it can be done in the discretion of the executors. The personal estate amounts to $3,500.

Deceased was the oldest citizen of Pulaski county, being 96½ years ago. He was born and spent his whole life on the same place.

A Hairbreadth Escape.

E. B. Fuller, a young white man, brakeman on Captain Wassum's train, fell between two cars while his train was backing in the Pulaski yard, and three trucks passed over him. The trainmen screamed to the engineer to stop, that a man was killed; but before the train had entirely stopped Fuller rolled from beneath the cars.

He got up with a little assistance regained himself. The fingers of one of his too-large gloves were cut off, but by little short of a miracle the man was unhurt beyond sundry bruises and he was able to finish his day's work.

A Sad Accident.

Robert Halks, a white lad about 17 or 18 years of age, employed at Bertha, had the misfortune to lose a leg to-day. A work train was backing from Foster's Falls to Bertha, and he attempted to board it when he fell and was dragged under the wheels.

BREVITIES.

Mrs. E. E. Via has returned from a visit to relatives in Henry county.

A Pulaski man saw a bear in the woods between Newbern and Dublin yesterday.

Two bears have been seen at Altoona coal mines, north of town, and a fine deer trotted down the mountain side the other day.

A BIG BANK FAILURE.

The Maverick National, of Boston, Closes Its Doors.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The announcement was made yesterday that the Maverick National Bank had suspended.

At a meeting of the Boston national banks at the clearing house this morning it was resolved that it is the judgment of the clearing house that all banks constituting the association should at once combine to relieve the necessities of the deposits of Maverick National Bank by making written agreements among themselves to advance money to such depositors upon security of the assignment of their claims against said Maverick National Bank. That a committee of ten representatives of the banks be appointed who shall have full power to execute the foregoing.

The losses are estimated at upwards of $2,000,000 with previously reported surplus and undivided profits of $1,000,000; and a capital of $40,000 and all of the 100 per cent. assessments that the shareholders may be called upon to contribute, but as nearly a majority of the bank shares were owned by President Potter, some of which he had pledged with savings of the bank, etc., it is doubtful if a full assessment can be collected. Depositors however, should lose only a fraction of their deposits.

The irregularities of Maverick Bank extend back over a period of more than two years. President Ballings says that when he was bank examiner ten years ago, the bank was sound except for the fault of over counting and ordering too much business upon its capital. Cashier Eddy quietly resigned from the bank several years ago.

While the law requires eleven directors for the bank and the comptroller of currency notifies the banks with nine directors to fill their vacancies, Maverick Bank has never filled its board of vacancies, except to maintain the existence of the bank by having five directors, but all, save one or two of the five, were practically dummies.

It has been for many years a one-man bank. It has been singularly free from known losses, and Potter has been accounted the best judge of business paper in Boston.

With the loan from the clearing house banks and Potter's private property $4,000,000 can be raised for depositors. Banking institutions throughout the State will not be seriously affected. Thomas P. Beall, president of the Second National Bank of Boston, has been appointed receiver.
